Pine Cone-Cinema 70 offer free tickets to 'Paint Your Wagon'

According to Time Magazine, "Paint Your Wagon," now playing at Cinema 70 in Del Monte Shopping Center, is the last of the multi-million dollar productions to come out of Hollywood.

The money today is in sex, done quickly and on a minimum budget. At least, that's what Hollywood says.

So "Paint Your Wagon" is a piece of history.

Of course, it is also a great motion picture as well, with unforgettable songs, outstanding performances and wonderful photography.

So the Pine Cone, wanting everyone to have the opportunity to see this great picture, is offering a free ticket to "Paint Your Wagon" with every one-year subscription or renewal.

The tickets we are offering in conjunction with Cinema 70 are reserved seats normally selling at $2.50, and are good any time, Monday through Thursday.

See page 24 for details.

The Candidates

When voters go to the polls April 14 to elect two city councilmen, they will have five candidates from which to choose – Ken Brown, Gunnar Norberg, Charles McEwen, Leslie Gross, and Bernard Anderson.

Brown, an incumbent councilman, was appointed in May 1968 to fill the unexpired term of William Sefton who had resigned.

Brought up in Iowa, Brown completed his education at Des Moines University there. After 20 years in the wholesale radio business in Des Moines, he came to Carmel in 1951 and entered the motel business.

In the 1958-59 period he served as president of the California State Motel Association. Long active in the local Lions Club, he served a term as its president. His wife, Beryl, operates a lingerie shop.

They have two grown children – Leonard Brown and Mary Angier

Norberg, a travel agency owner, served on the City Council from 1958 to 1962, and from 1964 to 1968. Born in Canada and brought up in Sweden and Minnesota, he completed his formal education at Stanford University where he majored in economics.

While working as a magazine editor in New York City, he met his wife-to-be, Barbara, a professional actress. While vacationing in Carmel, in 1940, the Norbergs decided to make it their permanent home, and they have resided here ever since that year. A charter member of the Carmel Rotary Club, Norberg served as its treasurer for several years. During most of the 1950s he was troop committee chairman for Carmel Boy Scout Troop No. 32. Long active in political affairs, he was founder and first president of the Monterey Peninsula Republican Men's Club.

The Norbergs have two children, Eric and Karin, both born in Carmel and brought up here. Eric is program director for a Monterey radio station, while Karin is now employed by the state government in Fresno.

Charles McEwen, a local real estate broker, is the present chairman of the Carmel Planning Commission.

Born and brought up in Kansas City, Missouri, he first came to Carmel in 1950. However, the following year, he moved to Stockton where he engaged in land development as well as real estate brokerage.

He holds a graduate certificate in real estate from the extension division of the University of California, and he has taught courses in real estate at Monterey Peninsula College.

A past president of both the Carmel Business Association and the Carmel Board of Realtors, he is also a member of the Carmel Rotary Club. This year he is also serving as regional vice president of the California Real Estate Association.

His wife, Naoma, is employed in a local bank. Their daughter, Jean, is married and living in Menlo Park. The McEwens returned to Carmel from Stockton in 1957 and they have lived here ever since.

Leslie Gross, property manager for Del Monte Properties, was at one time administrator of planning and development for the City of Tiburon, located in the San Francisco Bay area.

Born and brought up in the central valley of California, Gross completed his formal education at Modesto College. After managing his family's orchard property, he operated his own interior decorating business in Modesto. He moved to Carmel in 1959 and he has lived here most of the time since that year.

His wife, Betty, is employed in a local real estate office, and they have two grown children –Donald, employed in a Redwood City bank, and Carol, a Modesto housewife. Gross is a member of the Carmel Board of Realtors and of the Carmel Citizens' Committee.

Bernard Anderson, a retired official both of the U.S. Forestry Service and of an agency of the United Nations, has lived in Carmel for the past six years.

He is the present chairman of the Carmel Forestry Commission, and he was recently chosen vice president of the Carmel Citizens' Committee. Following undegraduate work at the University of Washington, he received his master's degree in forestry from the University of Idaho. After serving in various administrative posts in the U.S. Forestry Service for a period of 30 years, he held an executive position in the Food & Agriculture Organization of the United Nations for several years before coming to Carmel.

He and his wife, Ethel, are the parents of three children: Larry, an Ohio State University professor; Jim, a Peace Corps volunteer in Africa; and Mrs. Gervaise Davis of Monterey.

Water, parking, hippies occupy CBA dinner meet

The Carmel Business Association, at its quarterly dinner held at the La Playa Hotel last Thursday evening, learned from a few past presidents and Willard Branson that Carmel has a parking, hippie, parking, water, and parking problem.

The business group was warned by County Supervisor Willard Branson that the time had past for studying the water problem on the Monterey Peninsula, and that the area was entering a crisis period in which one more year of subnormal rainfall would reduce the water shed to such an extent that water rationing would without a doubt, be instituted.

Branson said that the Peninsula was warned more than 10 years ago that it had an inadequate water supply, but compacency and an inability to determine what to do about the situation has now led to this critical shortage.

He offered several solutions to the problem, only one of which he said was practical. A dam or series of dams on the Carmel River offers the only feasible solution from the standpoint of time.

The supervisor insisted that the County, the California-American Water Co., and the federal government all must work together to solve the problem.

After Branson's brief talk, CBA president James Peter Cost introduced a flock of past presidents of the organization, and each was asked to point out the mistakes he had made and what he would change if he had it all to do over again.

The only point of agreement was that Carmel has a parking problem, and that no solution is in sight.

However, former president (1942) Harold Nielson said Carmel should thank its lucky stars it does have a parking problem.

"Lots of towns don't. Take a look at Greenfield or Gonzales. Go down there and you'll find plenty of places to park."

Hippies came up for discussion several times, and engendered some heated discussion.

Carmel Mayor Barney Laiolo pointed out that the Supreme Court has ruled vagrancy laws unconstitutional, and now police are powerless to force hippie-types to move on or jail them for failure to do so.

Suggestions as to how to solve the problem ranged from "a smack in the face" to putting one on the City Council.

Nothing was resolved.

As to the future of Carmel.

While the disagreement was not quite so heated, it was widespread.

CBA's 1936 president Shelburn Robison wanted to promote the "Carmel spirit" to retain the flavor of the town; Tom Perry wanted the city to get back to what it used to be, and Howard Brunn said that Carmel had to progress, but with a strictly controlled growth.

One surprising fact emerged from the meeting.

An overwhelming number of the members present favored closing Ocean Ave. to motor vehicles and provide a pedestrian mall, regardless of the additional parking problems it would cause.

Cost said he would investigate further and report to the members in a newsletter.

Soprano Delcina Stevenson sings in PG tonight

On Thursday evening, February 26, at 8:15 p.m., the Monterey Peninsula Concert Association will present Delcina Stevenson, soprano, in the Junior High School Auditorium, Pacific Grove.

Born in the middle west, Miss Stevenson received her Bachelor of Music degree from Kansas University in 1955. After extensive work in opera workshops, she took the Opera Master Class under Martial Singher, at the Academy of the West in Santa Barbara. It was here she began the coaching association with Madame Lotte Lehmann, the greatest source of inspiration and guidance in her career.

Oratorio, recitals, and solo works with orchestra are all parts of this versatile singer's career. Among her major roles in opera are Pamina in "The Magic Flute", Donna Anna and Donna Elvira in "Don Giovanni," the Countess in "Nozze di Figaro," Cio Cio San in "Madame Butterfly," and Mimi in "La Bohemee."

In 1964 Miss Stevenson was the winner of the annual competition of the Young Musicians Foundation, Los Angeles, and in 1966 top award winner in the San Francisco Opera Auditions, and is now an active member of that distinguished Opera Association.

She has been called "an enormous new vocal talent," and in San Francisco the Chronicle review stated "a silky lyric soprano with a bell-like upper register. After her first-act aria, she had her audience in the palm of her hand."

Attendance at the concert is limited to members of the association, and to members of similar associations on a space available basis.

The association will hold its annual membership drive for next season March 3rd through 6th, with headquarters at the United California Bank, Pacific Grove.

Camera Club meet

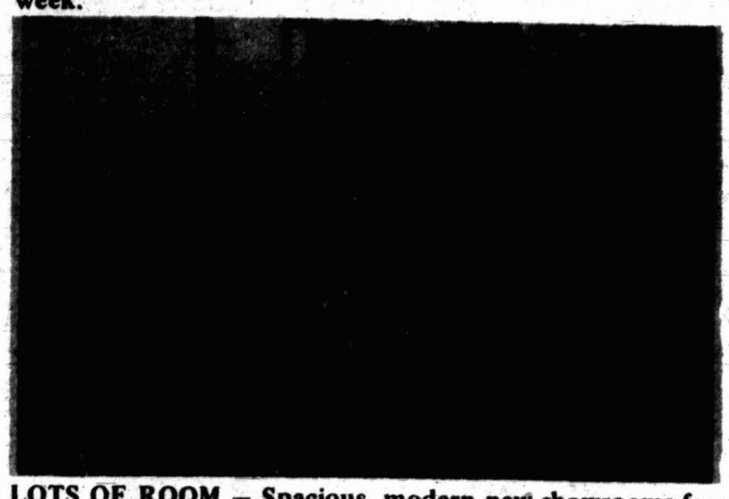
"Hong Kong," an excellent and comprehensive travelog of this small but important area on the coast of mainland China, will be presented at the meeting of the Padre Trails Camera Club on Thursday, Mar. 5, at 8 p.m., in Brey Hall, Carmel High School.

The 100 slides and taped commentary were made by Carver and W. F. Scott, Jr., FPSA, of St. Louis, and earned for them a medal in the Photographic Society of America's color slide travelog competition for 1969.

In addition to this showing, which runs 26 minutes, each member of the club will present four pictorial color slides of his own making to be judged in competition for honors.

BROTHER TEAM — Don and Jim Wester perch on one of the new Volkswagens in their new showrooms opened this week.



LOTS OF ROOM — Spacious, modern new showrooms for Wester VW will permit many more models to be displayed on the floor. Reception desk is at lower right; additional showroom space and sales offices are at top right.

Wester Volkswagen opens new showrooms

Wester Volkswagen unveiled its spacious new facilities in the Gateway Auto Center in Seaside this week in a well-planned and executed expansion move from their former Del Monte Ave. location.

The ultra-modern new headquarters is located on 3½ acres at the north end of the new Center, conveniently located between Del Monte and Fremont Avenues. It will be devoted exclusively to the sales and servicing of Volkswagen autos; the old site has been taken over by Wester's Porsche/Audi branch, promising vastly increased service and convenience for owners and buyers of these cars from both locations.

Volkswagen owners will rejoice at the prospect of speedier, improved service for their cars in the expanded service department. They will be served by trained mechanics and technicians working in 22 work stalls — more than double the number at the old location.

Bill Ijams, service manager, stated that appointments for routine service will not be necessary any more. "We are now set up to handle the work as it comes in," Ijams explained, "and are very grateful to our customers for their patience while we were constructing our new facilities."

Service customers drive up to a reception island where they are greeted by a service advisor who notes customer's remarks, and fills out a new VW Maintenance and Repair Analysis form. Then, instead of going directly to a mechanic, the car will be driven into a special diagnosis stall, equipped with the latest testing devices — the key new element in the new service setup.

There the car is subjected to as many as 96 tests by a diagnostician, who fills out a test report, which is reviewed by the customer and his service advisor before any work is done. After the needed service is performed, the car is sent to technicians, using new space-age testing equipment, carefully check to see that the needed repairs were made satisfactorily.

An additional vehicle is now available to provide shuttle service for any service customers who leave their cars and need a lift. The buses will drop the customer at his destination at any nearby point on the Peninsula, (including Carmel,) and pick him up — free of charge) when his car is ready.

The official grand opening of the new Wester Volkswagen facilities will be held on Mar. 14.

EDITORIAL--

A 'Yes' vote

At a press conference called by Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.) of Carmel at the La Playa Hotel on Tuesday, James Pruitt of the Carmel Sanitary Board and Bernard Anderson of the Carmel Citizens' Committee urged voters to vote "Yes" on the $1½ million bond issue on Mar. 14.

Pruitt told the press that the money was vitally necessary in order that the Sanitary District comply with recent directives of the Central Coastal Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The 1½ million, along with money from the Pebble Beach Sanitary District and the federal government, will provide primary treatment of sewage and build a 600-foot outfall, extending beyond the present 200-foot pipe.

While we feel that the facilities are not sufficient to do a complete job in providing both primary and secondary treatment, the Pine Cone urges all voters to vote "Yes" on this issue Mar. 14.

At least something is being done to reduce this pollution pouring into Monterey and Carmel Bay. The money voted at this time will provide time to investigate the feasibility of a regional sewage system, a proposal vigorously supported at the press conference by Frank Lloyd, "The Beachmaster."

The regional system is the ultimate answer, but a long way off. The bond issue will provide a temporary solution immediately.

The Pine Cone urges a "Yes" vote Mar. 14.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

The Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday on the subject of "Christ Jesus" begins with a Golden Text from Luke: "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

One of the passages read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, explains the Christian Science interpretation of the title, "Jesus the Christ," as follows: "Jesus is the name of the man who, more than all other men has presented Christ, the true idea of God, healing the sick and the sinning and destroying the power of death Jesus is the human man, and Christ is the divine idea; hence the duality of Jesus the Christ" (p. 473).

The public is welcome to attend services at 11:00 a.m. and 5 p.m. at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel.

Christian Science Radio Program

"Highway Safety and Christian Concern" is the title of next Sunday's program on the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It will be heard over stations KGO at 7:15, KRML at 7:45, and KDON at 8:45.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT MOLINARI

Kathy Farr weds Bob Molinari

Kathy Ann Farr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Farr of Carmel was married Feb. 14 at Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula. A 12:45 p.m. Ecumenical service was performed by the Rev. Victor Davis of Fresno and the Rev. Charles Moore of Seaside. The organist was Mrs. C. K. Carruth of Carmel, a long time family friend. John Farr was soloist at his daughter's wedding.

Kathy was married in a gown she made herself using lace she bought in Italy last summer. The dress was designed in the Empire style of white satin covered with a chiffon overlay skirt. The full length sleeves were of chiffon accented with rows of lace on the bodice and around the bottom of the skirt. The bodice was studded with pearl buttons.

Her elbow length veil and headpiece were of the same lace as the dress. She wore an heirloom locket belonging to Mrs. C. K. Carruth and carried a nosegay of white pompons and pink rosebuds.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert (Diena) Street of Carmel. Bridesmaid was Danielle Duygou of Carmel and junior bridesmaid was Carol Molinari of San Rafael.

The attendants wore full length empire gowns with bodices of white eyelet and pink underlining. The skirts were of pink velvet with white velvet sashes.

James Molinari of Fairfax was best man. Ushers were Steve Eandi of Chico and Bob Dexter of Cupertino.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Community Church. It was in a Valentine motif. Atop the three layer wedding cake decorated with fresh pink rosebuds were delicate clasped hands which had been used by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Heise and the bride's sister at their weddings.

Kathy is a graduate of San Jose State College where she majored in art. She is the sister of Mr. David Farr of Ann Arbor, Mich. and Mrs. Robert (Diena) Street of Carmel.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guido Molinari of San Rafael. He is the brother of James Molinari of Fairfax, Joan Molinari of San Jose, and Jerry and Carol Molinari of San Rafael. He majored in business at San Jose State College and is now a purchasing agent for the United Technology Center in Sunnyvale.

Pebble Beach is wedding setting

Terry Dee Smith, formerly of Cleveland Ohio, became the bride of George William Tischer, III, of San Francisco Saturday, Feb. 7. Their vows were said beneath the pine trees on the 18th fairway of the Pebble Beach Golf Links.

The Reverend Oscar Pitcock of Monterey officiated at the ceremony while background guitar music was provided by Brad Bivens of Big Sur.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. Earl Smith, of Cleveland. Their only attendants were Stephanie Smith, sister of the bride, and Charles Edward Tischer, the groom's brother. The couple toasted each other with wine poured from an ancient lacquered decanter after the ceremony.

Following a brief honeymoon at Pebble Beach, the couple will make their home in Tiburon. The bridegroom is presently Director of Marketing for the Class Student Services in San Francisco. The new Mrs. Tischer will assist her husband in his duties.

Ecumenical service in Carmel

In an ecumenical ceremony performed by the Rev. David Hill and a visiting Catholic priest, Michele Lynn Marinkovich of Carmel became the bride of Richard C. Smith of the Coast Route. The 1 p.m. ceremony took place at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Michele is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marinkovich of Carmel. She is a student at MPC and will receive her degree as a dental assistant in June. She is a 1968 graduate of Carmel High School.

Richard, the son of Mrs. George Smith and the late Mr. Smith of Coast Route, is also a Carmel High School graduate. He attended MPC and is now awaiting orders for active duty with the National Guard.

Michele's gown was of organza designed with a sabrina neckline and bell shaped sleeves. The sleeves, hemline and chapel length train were edged with re-embroidered lace of Swiss net. A band of flowers held her short veil. The bridal bouquet was of silver roses, an orchid, pompom chyrsanthemums, and baby's breath.

The bride's older sister, Mrs. Charles (Sharon) Marinkovich was her only attendant. Her youngest sister, Candice was flower girl.

The bridegroom's brother, Thomas Smith of Merced was best man and another brother John Smith, seated the guests as did John Marinkovich of Santa Rosa, a brother of the bride.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the Monterey Elk's Lodge. After a wedding trip to San Francisco, the couple returned to the Peninsula to make their home in Pacific Grove.

It takes a lot of land, a lot of lakes, a lot of rivers, a lot of snow, a lot of mountains and a lot of valleys to make a lot of electricity. Beautiful places. And we keep them that way. For everyone.

And we add facilities for your enjoyment. PG&E campgrounds have tables, benches, stoves, restrooms, refuse containers and water.

You can catch a fish, sail a boat, sing a song, watch a bird, do a dance, have a picnic, enjoy the big outdoors. Make yourself at home.

Carmelites not anxious for expanded mail delivery says Postmaster Woolsey

William P. Woolsey, Carmel's acting postmaster, does not anticipate enough requests for newly allowed home delivery – for persons living more than a quarter of a mile from the Post Office – to warrant a census of Carmel residents.

If more than 50 percent of the Village dwellers request the service, some sort of vote will have to be taken, but Woolsey said he did not at present know the population of the city proper.

Earlier regulations permitted home delivery for postal patrons living more than half a mile from a post office not offering city delivery. Presently, not more than half a dozen Carmel residents have requested and received such service, Woolsey said.

The new service will be rural free delivery, not mail brought to the front porch. Curbside or roadside boxes will be required.

To the crucial questions, will home delivery bring with it house numbers and sidewalks, Woolsey replied:

"The city will assign arbitrary house numbers, not necessarily the county numbering system. But no sidewalks where they don't exist – this will be RFD, not city delivery."

Woolsey pointed up the possibility of losing parking stalls to curbside mail boxes if postal patrons in downtown Carmel request mail delivery under the new regulation.

'The Cage' at Little Theater

A drama on prison life, "The Cage," will be staged in MPC's new Little Theater on Friday, Feb. 27 at 8 p.m.

The play, which was the first ever written by an inmate and produced behind the walls of a prison, will be performed by Barbwire Theater Inc. The company is composed of ex-convicts, some of whom are still on parole.

"The Cage" was written at San Quentin by former kidnapper Rick Cluchey, and it was at San Quentin that it was first produced. Billed as "a true story, told by the men who lived it," It dramatizes the crushing routine of a prison existence by focusing on four men in a cell – three "veterans" and a naive college graduate convicted of murdering his girl friend.

Barbwire Theatre Inc., formed with the help of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has performed "The Cage" in major cities throughout the country. Following each performance, In a "confrontation" sequence, the actors drop their roles for a question-answer session with the audience.

Tickets for "The Cage" at $1.75 for general admission and $1.25 for students, are on sale in MPC's community services office on campus and will be available at the door.

Cougar loaned

For the seventh consecutive year, the Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula has been given the use of a new automobile by Principal Lincoln & Mercury Motors Inc. of Monterey.

This year, as a goodwill gesture, the company has loaned the hospital a 1970 Mercury Cougar.

Keys for the car, used by the administrative staff, were presented by George W. Morris, general manager of Principal, to Thomas E. Tonkin, administrator of the hospital.

FINISHING TOUCHES — Helen B. Dooley, owner of the Dooley gallery in Carmel, uses a palate knife to give the finishing touch to one of her paintings. Miss Dooley will have a one-man show at San Jose City College, Feb. 27 through Mar. 20. She will show recent oils including figure paintings, landscapes, still life and Mexican themes done following her trip to Mexico in December. A member of the Carmel Art Association and former professor of Art at the University of the Pacific, Miss Dooley exhibits widely and has won many awards.

Donti paintings on exhibit

Throughout the month of February, paintings of Jerrold Peter Donti will be on exhibit in the Crocker-Citizens National Bank in Pebble Beach.

Donti is a graduate of the Academy of Art in San Francisco and has studied in Paris and Mexico. He has exhibited in such prominent San Francisco Gallaries as Maxwell's, Pomeroy's, Shreve's and De Young Museum.

Among his admirers and owners of his paintings are Mr. and Mrs. William Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Gower Champion, Richard Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Swig, and Mrs. Joseph Knowland.

Mexican Art at Laky Gallery

The Laky Gallery is currently showing a one man exhibit by painter and draftsman David Ramirez.

Ramirez favors painting the Mexican peasant in poses depicting daily living activities as a continual struggle for existence.

Ramirez prefers the spontaneous approach over other regimented methods and yet nothing is left to chance and nothing is haphazard. His strong facility for draftsmanship in all phases of life drawing supports the vivid coloring which is so characteristic of his paintings.

A graduate of the UCLA with an M.A. in fine arts, Ramirez was selected as number one from the list of teacher candidates in art in the Los Angeles School System.

The exhibit will run until Feb. 28.

Movie Review

Goodbye, Columbus – A bittersweet and hilarious comedy about a love affair between a young man fighting routine and a rich college girl tied to her family background. Ali MacGraw and Richard Benjamin star at the Regency.

key
CARMEL and the MONTEREY PENINSULA
magazine nationwide

Paint Your Wagon – A lusty, brawling, sprawling musical set in a mining camp during the California Gold Rush days. Lee Marvin and Clint Eastwood share their gold claim and a wife, Jean Seberg, in perfect amity. Great surprise ending. At Cinema 70 in Del Monte Shopping Center.

The Sterile Cuckoo – Liza Minnelli, daughter of the late Judy Garland, in a supercharged portrayal of a zany, vulnerable, motherless girl in a story that moves from young love to an emphasis on sexual relationship. At the Regency.

The Magic Christian – Comedian Peter Sellers, Beatle Ringo Starr and sex symbol Raquel Welch in a mod comedy about a multi-millionaire, his adopted son and a pirestess for 100 girl galley slave rowers – topless. At the Golden Bough.

The Computer Wore Tennis Shoes – Typical clean-cut, Walt Disney, outrageous premise, but funny. Kurt Russell is a college student shockced by a computer, which lets him absorb all the machine's knowledge. Take it from there. At the Valley Cinema.

The Subject Was Roses – A young soldier, returning home after the war, must now fight the war – with his parents. This screen version of Frank Gilroy's stage play is victorious, but the margin of victory has diminished in Hollywood. At the State.

This Is My Alaska – A penetrating look into Eskimo culture, some magnificent scenery. For the rest, its hunting and fishing up to here. A great picture if you like that sort of thing. At the Grove.

Jenny – Marlo Thomas is the daughter of Danny Thomas. This really doesn't mean anything, because she has a whole flock of talent. In paring her with Alan Alda, the producers have come up with a warm, lovely little film. Sheer escapism, and what's wrong with that? At the Steinbeck.

Yours, Mine and Ours – He's a Navy warrant officer with 10 motherless kids, she's an attractive widow with eight of same. It happened in Monterey few years ago. Henry Fonda and Lucille Ball star in this hilarious and riotous comedy. At the Grove.

Dining Out ...with Viriy Shepley
at the .... Pine Inn

Since 1904 the PINE INN has been Carmel's most admired landmark and its Garden Restaurant an adventure in fine dining.

We find their Sunday Champagne Brunch (11:30 to 2:30) with many tempting dishes the most sophisticated offering in town. Inspite of the constant flow of Ocean Avenue's beachcombers by the PINE INN's doors, its clientele is correctly informal. Early reservations are suggested.

Jacques Van Seters, assistant manager, dreamed up this Sunday specialty about two years ago. We've returned often to find the menu, service and atmosphere as fine as it was originally.

First at the bountiful buffet is a table of assorted fruits. The center table decor of small yellow mums and tall crimson glads match the "fringed-on-top" pineapple hats stuck with marachino cherries.

True eye appeal.

We dipped fresh pineapple rounds into the complimentary champagne, a lovely eye-opener.

Next we chose to start with the breakfast part of bruncheon.

Croissants, fluffy scrambled eggs, crisply broiled bacon, frizzled baked ham and little bronzed sausage links. Back to our garden window table. Plenty of good coffee.

Relaxed, unrushed.

Then came the lunch part of brunch. Meatballs, glorified in a creamy caper sauce (see recipe); golden herbed chicken breasts and thighs; crocks of sherried chicken livers; turkey a la king; home style creamed chipped beef; mixed wild & white rice; saffron rice and superb shrimp au gratin. Nobody could ask for more. We found that dividing the servings into two sections (our own idea) didn't mix the items, kept everything hot longer, and as this is self-service, our plates didn't look greedily piled high.

Jacques generously gave us the PINE INN recipe for

Caper Meatballs

Make small meatballs the Swedish way, with ground beef and pork; sauteed minced onion, salt, pepper, ground nutmeg. Augment with crushed crackers mixed with light cream and a beaten egg. Saute in melted butter until browned.

To make caper suace: Blend half of drippings with enough flour to make a smooth sauce. Taste for seasoning and add 2 T. capers. Put meatballs with sauce into chafing dish and keep hot. Just like the PINE INN . . everything piping hot over steaming containers.

As a psuedo Guide Michelin; your Carmel Food Sleuth does discover that all is not a taste thrill even at the PINE INN. Their week day luncheons are often not as hot as necessary, expecially the daily special which when lukewarm can be disappointing. Also carrots prevail and these not even Vichy.

We'll return for the Sunday Brunch.

The Dinner Menu is magnificent. Veal Oskar, a tender veal steak sauteed in butter, topped with crabmeat, served with asparagus and bearnaise sauce was superb and guaranteed to please.

The price is $5.25 and worth it. In contrast THE INN's TREAT: broiled ground round with Chef's Garni is $4.25!

We'll wait until after taxes or have our magnified hamburger at home.

Stage Review

The Crucible – This Circle Theater production of Arthur Miller's drama about the Salem witch trials leaves you with a chill in your heart. With the realization that four girls, brilliantly played by Mindy Stock, Evelyn Hughes, Janet Goff and Marcy Lewis, could, through lies, viciousness and petty spite, inflame the superstitious fear of the time into the famous trials that resulted in so much death and destruction. Weekends. Curtain at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday, Sunday at 7:30. You'll need reservations, so call 624-2669.

The Seven Year Itch – The Studio Theater-Restaurant serves a delicious dinner, then offers this hilarious comedy by George Axelrod to improve your digestion. Directed by Bill Asp, the play features Dick Vreeland and Alena Johnston star, ably supported by a cast of nine other accomplished actors and actresses. The situation is funny, the play is funny, and the production is hilarious. Weekends. Dinner at 7:30, curtain at 8:30 on Friday and Saturday, Sunday, everything one hour earlier. Call 624-1661 or 2321.

The glories of Italian Cuisine

A tremendous treat is in store for arm chair and wouid-be travelers. "Venice and the Italian Lakes," produced and presented by Thayer Soule is the next Explorama to be shown and narrated in person at Carmel's Sunset Center. On Friday, March 6 at 8:15 p.m., this beautiful new 2-hour color travel adventure film will delight us all.

If you haven't already fallen in love with the everlasting charm of Venice, you will now. The Italian Lakes glittering in the sunlight at the foot of the Alps offer the ultimate in contrast to Venice, only a few hours away.

To get into an Italian frame of mind, we're giving you a glimpse of Italian cooking exhibiting true regional diversity. To food-loving Americans, whose idea is that the Italian kitchen is limited, we vouch to the contrary. Beginning with antipasto or hors d'oeuvres of infinite variety or melon with prosciutto, a delicate consomme Marsala follows.

Scampi (grilled prawns) are accompanied by Risotto (Milanese saffron rice), herbed artichokes. Dessert can be zabaione or assorted cheese, fresh fruits with espresso and Galliano liquore.

Melone E. Prosciutto
Melon with Prosciutto

One large firm honeydew; 1 large firm cantaloupe; 1 lb. prosciutto; crisp salad greens; whole peppercorns. Serves 8.

Cut melons; remove rind and seeds; slice into thin wedges, about 12 wedges per melon. Wrap each wedge inabout 3 paper-thin slices of Italian ham (prosciutto . . found at the Mediterranean Market). Secure with picks. Chill at least one hour before serving. To serve, place a bed of crisp greens on each of 8 chilled salad plates. Put 3 wedges of melon with prosciutto on each plate. Grind peppercorns over these and serve at once.

Straciatella
Consommee Marsala

Two qts. water; 6 T. chicken seasoned stock base; 2 T. shredded parsley; 4 eggs, well-beaten; ½ cup grated Romano cheese; 2 T. Marsala wine. Serves 8.

Turn water and chicken stock base into a large saucepan. Simmer 15 min. Beat parsley into eggs until blended, then beat in cheese. Stir into soup. Egg and cheese mixture will form little strings. This is normal. Remove from heat and stir in Marsala. Serve hot in two-handled cups.

Scampialla Griglia
Grilled Prawns

Two lbs. fresh or frozen prawns; 2 T., each, olive oil and butter; dash of salt and garlic powder to taste; 3 T. lemon juice; shredded parsley; lemon wedges for garnish. Serves 8.

Cut prawns lengthwise with scissors. Leave shells attached just above tails. Clean prawns by deveining them carefully. Heat together oil, butter, seasonings. Put prawns in shallow baking glass dish, cut-side up. Brush well with butter mixture and grill until prawns are lightly browned. Turn them shell-side up, brush with remaining butter and grill 3 min. Do not overcook. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Garnish with parsley and lemon wedges. Accompany with

Risotto Milano
Milianese Saffron Rice

Six T. butter; 2 T. olive oil; 1½ cups long grain white rice; 3 cups water; 1/8 t. saffron and garlic powder, each; 1 t. onion powder; 2 T. chicken seasoned stock base; ½ cup stuffed green olives sliced; ½ cup thinly sliced pepperoni; ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese; 1 T. shredded parsley. Serves 8.

Melt 2 T. butter with oil in heavy saucepan. Add rice; stir until each grain is well-coated. Add water, saffron, garlic and onion powders; 2 T. chicken stock base. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer 25 min. Saute olives with pepperoni in 4 T. butter until heated. Stir in rice along with ¼ cup Parmesan and the parsley. Serve hot with remaining Parmesan on top.

Carciofi alla Milanese
Artichokes Milanese

Half a cup butter; 2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms; 1 t. each, salt, crushed sweet basil and oregano; ¼ t. garlic powder; 1 T. fine dry breadcrumbs; 2 T. fresh lemon juice; 2 pkgs. (8-oz.) frozen artichoke hearts, thawed; paprika. Serves 8.

Melt butter in large heavy skillet. Saute mushrooms until golden. Sprinkle with seasonings during cooking. Add mixed juice and breadcrumbs. Arrange artichokes in lightly buttered shallow baking dish. Spoon mushroom mixture over artichokes. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 350 F. oven about 30 min. until juices bubble.

Zabaione
Wine Foam Custard

Eight egg yolks; 8 T. sugar; pinch salt; 1 cup Marsala wine; lady fingers. Serves 8.

Beat yolks in top of double boiler until light and lemon colored. Beat in sugar and salt. Place over hot water. Slowly add the Marsala wine, beating constantly with electric hand mixer. Continue beating until mixture thickens and almost reaches boiling point but do not boil. Serve chilled. This can be made the day before and stored in refrigerator in stemmed sherbet glasses. Top with whipped cream if desired. Sprinkle tops with grated nutmeg. Accompany with lady fingers. Instead of bread, thin Italian breadsticks are used. The coffee is expresso and the liqueur that lovely golden Italian import Galliano.

Petpourri

BY JUDITH EISNER

Most of us who have made the Monterey Peninsula our home have done so by choice.

We have come here to surround ourselves with the natural beauties of mountain, seacoast, and pine forest, to breathe the still-clean air, enjoy the sunshine, hide in the swirling fogs, to be free of the tumult of freeways, the press of big city living, to find peace and harmony and privacy.

One of the biggest lures of this lovely area is the promise of privacy. That is, perhaps, one of the reasons so many people in the arts choose to live here, for in most instances, their privacy is respected and protected as it never would be in a metropolis.

It is surprising, then, that people who for the most part seek to "live and let live," and who respect each other's rights so carefully, permit their dogs to roam free and become trespassers and transgressers. More and more frequently we read angry letters, written by non-dog owning folk, who are sick and tired of chasing off and cleaning up after straying dogs. And these people are not merely old cranks; they have every right in the world to object to the nuisance and danger of loose, uncontrolled dogs.

We were taking a ride recently when we were charged by two loose Labrador Retrievers. They attacked our car from opposite sides, jumping up at the windows, running in front of the car, snapping and snarling. Fortunately, we were going slowly and were able to stop to avoid running them down. When the dogs showed no sign of quitting, we had to put the car in gear and proceed slowly up the hill until we finally left the dogs behind. That was the third time in less than a week that we were annoyed and endangered by car-chasing dogs.
dogs.

Any dog who is permitted to run free is no better than a canine tramp. Sooner or later he is going to get into trouble. We have heard of dogs being shot by irate farmers (acting within their rights) whose livestock have been menaced. Dogs have gotten caught in traps; dogs have been bitten by snakes, been poisoned, sprayed by skunks, tangled with porcupines and barbed wire, smashed by autos and stolen by dognappers.

And the fault is never the dog's.

You are responsible for your dog's action and whereabouts, just as you are for your child's. When you permit your dog to run loose you are, in essence, giving him permission to do whatever he wants, without supervision, for better or worse.

If you cannot securely fence your entire property, why not build a special run for your pet? A four by eight foot run can be built for far less money than a damage suit – or the cost of a new dog. Pre-fabricated dog pens of varying sizes and materials can be purchased through your local pet dealer.

We who own dogs and cats loudly defend our right to have them. We object to discrimination against them, we curse the homeowner who refuses to rent to dog-owning families. Yet by our very negligence, we provide grist for the anti-dog mill. By not living up to the responsibility of pet ownership, we invite the public to pass laws against our pets. Then, when it is too late, we loudly bemoan our fate.

Prevent accidents, dog fights, unwanted puppies, injuries, lawsuits, and heartbreak. Keep your dog at home with you, where he belongs. Remember, the dog is a domestic animal; he is not born free and it is a mistake to offer freedom to him.

Note: The typesetting demon struck again; in our statement last week that "cats are not unaffectionate," the crucial word "not" was omitted. Apologies to our purring friends and their outraged owners.

Consumer Power

By Yvonne Earnst

Are the labels and boxtops you've been saving the last couple weeks beginning to bulge out of their temporary storage area? Probably so. They accumulate very quickly. And they're "money in the bank," when used for refund offers, so let me tell you an inexpensive filing system I devised for this purpose.

For this file, you need ordinary brown paper grocery sacks and corrugated carton about the width of a grocery sack. If you get the carton at you local grocery store, the top will already be sliced off neatly, just as you want it. The sides should be at least 8 inches high.

To construct the file folders, you will need only scissors and a stapler. First, fold down the top of the sack about 2 inches, turn to the inside, and crease sharply. This gives a neat finish to the top edge. Do not cut off the top edge, as the paper may cut your hand when you reach inside.

Next, fold the sack to its original flat shape. Measure down about 10 inches ( or less, if you wish) and cut straight across with the scissors. You now have a cylinder of paper with both ends open. Folding the paper flat, staple a seam across the bottom to close it. You may, if you wish, turn up about an inch of the paper before stapling the seam closed, but this makes a bulkier package.

With the bottom stapled shut, you now have an envelope with expanding sides. Begin putting these, open side up, into the box. With a felt-tip pen, print the category of labels or box-tops you will keep in each envelope on the front top edge of the envelope.

You will probably find that you will give some brand names individual filing envelopes –names such as Lawry's, Kraft, Birds Eye, Green Giant, Campbell's, Heinz, etc. Any label from these companies is worth saving for a later refund.

You will also want to specify some of the filing envelopes for families of products – such as detergents, soaps, canned fruits, canned vegetables, frozen baked products, etc. – if you use several brands other than the ones previously mentioned here.

You will also need on labeled "miscellaneous." Then as you find that filing envelope becoming crowded, you can make further divisions.

Alphabetize these grocery sack 'filing envelopes' in your "file box" and you now have a very low-cost) a few staples– filing system for your refunding.

If you have recieved, as yet, any of the refunding publications previously described in this column, you know what a gold mine that file will soon become. When Birds Eye, for instance, announced a refund offer of $1 cash for 8 of their new 5-minute frozen vegetables fronts, all I had to do was reach in my Birds Eye file envelope, count out 8 fronts, and send them into the company.

The money usually takes about six weeks to arrive from the time the labels are sent. But, I have had a few arrive in only two weeks, and here even had some take three months.

Remember, please, in your enthusiasm, that these offers are all "one to a family" or "one to each mailing address." To abuse this rule is to invite these companies to discontinue refund offers in the future. And, since this is one form of advertising which definitely benefits the consumer, it would really be unfortunate if a greedy few caused its end.

If you do have extra labels, and just can't resist the temptation to redeem them for cash, stop and think about someone you could designate as the recipient of the money who would not object to receiving a "gift" of this type. There are many people we all know among our families and friends who need money, but would refuse an outright gift of money from you. Receiving quarters and even dollars through the mail from companies to which you merely sent labels or boxtops is surely easier for them to accept. If it will make the recipient more comfortable, let him repay you the cost of the postage and envelopes from the refund income. That should remove all objections.

Next week, we will discuss how to set up a small notebook that will serve as a shopping list to take to the store with you as well as a record book in which to keep track of current refund offers, when you sent them in, andwhen you received the money.

And you will receive, from now on, a tidy sum from your refunding efforts.

Work started on Robinson Bridge

Work has begun on the reconstruction of Robinson Canyon Creek Bridge, located about one-half mile south of Carmel Valley Road. The Board of Supervisors has approved the contract awarded to Huettig-Schrom, Inc. of Menlo Park.

The project will replace a bridge washed out during last year's severe storms and will cost approximately $63,000.

Traffic will be routed around construction by means of a temporary detour. Drivers are requested to use care as only minimum speeds will be possible in the limited working area. The works is scheduled for completion in May, 1970.

OBITUARY

Word has been received of the death last month of Fr. Pedro Rebello, well known in this area when he was at the Camaldoli Hermitage south of Big Sur.

Fr. Rebello, who was the chief fundraiser of the present hermitage, was critcially injred in an automobile accident in India on Jan. 14. He had gone to India to explore the possibilities of founding a hermitage in that country.

Andre's Case Is A Sensation

THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING

BERT TAYLOR

Put all the electric and telephone wires underground.

If it's all done at once, it may be accomplished at reasonable cost, for around $12 per house which might mean a $1 increase monthly in rates for the space of a year. But I believe if sufficient pressure were brought to bear the companies would put the wires underground themselves. In the long run it would be to their advantage since the present upkeep on the wires is high.

It would make the town so much more attractive that the actual value to the entire community would be inestimable.

BYINGTON FORD

I should like to see a sense of humor in both local papers.

DR. JAMES E. CROWTHER
Pastor, Church of the Wayfarer

I should like to see a more constructive programs started in Carmel; do away with this clinging to the skirts of "the dear dead days beyond recall." For instance, instead of forbidding the cutting down of trees, let there be a law passed stating that for every tree removed, two must be replanted in some other spot.

I would also like to see an art commission created to pass on the color, design, type of architecture of every building to be constructed in Carmel.

MRS. JACK ABERNETHY

I would like to have a committee appointed to confer with, and under the sponsorship, of the city council to keep the new smaller homes in the traditional style of Carmel architecture.

SAIDEE VAN BROWER
City Clerk

Re-forest the town.

The trees are what make Carmel famous but if we don't look out they'll all be gone. Every time a tree is cut down, the adjoining property owner pays $5 to cover the cost of removal and also the planting of a new tree. I can't, however, see that this latter is being done.

We ought to have a pine tree to hide the unsightliness of every telephone pole.

With the rains beginning, this is the time to plant trees. I think the city ought to go around and find all the good spots for them right now. Putting three trees back where they used to grow by the Bank of Carmel at Dolores and Seventh would improve the looks of the whole town.

ADOLF LAFRENZ

The newspapers should stop attacking people so much. They should devote more space to constructive projects and to people who are improving the town.

The papers should praise the people who do things.

OTTO W. BARDARSON
Superintendent of Schools

I would like to see Mr. Fortier modify his lights as a gracious gesture to the community.

MRS. JOSEPH W. STILWELL

As a family we're against that drug store. It's an insult to Carmel.

I feel also that the signs on the stores could be more attractive. Severns, for instance, has a very nice one.

WINSOR JOSSELYN

I should like to see some of this heavy traffic taken off Ocean avenue. Why it's getting so a man can hardly read his mail in the middle of the street without getting run down!

MRS. HELEN C. CRANSTON
President, Carmel Women's Club

If Ocean avenue is going to be a great white way, why not call it Broadway?

ZENAS L. POTTER

There should be a citizens' committee of 50 to preserve Carmel's charm. I should also like to see Mr. Fortier dim his lights and change his sign.

* * *

CORUM JACKSON
President, Monterey Peninsula Realty Board

There's nothing I'd like to see better than to have the priority ban lifted from Carmel.

PON CHUNG

Think rents ought to come down. Everybody scared away now.

I would like to see Carmel as it was 17 years ago; natural, no commercialism, charming background, charming people. It's something we're losing fast.

Abolish all changes of any kind made since 1910.

MRS. LOUIS C. RALSTON
President, Carmel League of Women Voters

Carmel needs a little more cooperation motivated by friendliness. Everyone has thought he could do as he wished in Carmel but after all this is a community.

Postmaster

I would like to see Carmel changed back to where it was 12 years ago.

PETER WOLFF

What this town needs is a good psychical research society composed of a group of reasonably intelligent, non-fanatical persons, to impartially investigate various types of modern phenomenon.

MRS. VERA PECK MILLIS

Take the bright lights away.

As Carmel grows I would like to see it follow the tradition set by its founders of being a refuge from commercialism.

B. G. NEWELL
Highlands Station Operator

Take the women out of the barber shops and bars so a man can get a haircut and a drink of whiskey again.

And something else I think ought to be changed is all this talk about Old Carmel. That's gone and we might as well realize it and enjoy the New Carmel.

MRS. A. P. FRASER

Bring back the old Carmel atmosphere—that intangible something that gave the village its charm and outstanding selling point.

MRS. PETER BURK

It is not so much a question of changing the physical aspect of the town as of going back to the old spirit of Carmel with people being interested in what the other fellow was doing and of everyone helping everybody else.

You can't stop a town from growing but you can welcome the new people and help them to feel that they are part of the community and perhaps help them to understand Carmel as it used to be.

Councilman - Street Commissioner

I should like to see a change in people's attitude; their atitude toward cooperation, toward everything concerning the village.

BERNARD ROWNTREE
City Councilman and Police Commissioner

Really the ony thing wrong with Carmel is apathy.

We can't get the streets fixed until we have storm drains and people wouldn't vote for the taxes just the way they wouldn't vote for a city hall. Take Fortier's: They could cure that over night if they wanted to.

Traffic, storm sewers, no city hall, Fortier's, they're all the same —apathy!

A Sunset Is Witness For Duke Andre

By MARY DRAKE

Last Tuesday, Duke C. Andre stood trial in Monterey Justice Court for the alleged theft of some lumber, nails and a wheelbarrow, stolen from a partly constructed house in Carmel Valley. The charge was two counts of petit theft, with a neat little burglary charge, carrying a possible sentence from one to ten years as a rider.

The first morning was concerned with the selection of a jury, from which most Carmelites were excluded.

The first witness to be examined by Assistant District Attorney Gordon Campbell, was Deputy Sheriff William F. Gleeson Jr., who told of searching the Andre ranch and there discovering the disputed lumber, nail kegs and wheelbarrow from the incompleted Eddy job in Carmel Valley.

Harold Geyer and two foremen on his construction jobs followed on the stand. They gave good and sufficient, though somewhat technical reasons for thinking that the materials offered as court exhibits might have been those stolen.

Ralph O. Marron, defense counsel for Duke Andre, repeatedly conceded all possible points to the prosecution, including the fact that the lumber, nails and wheelbarrow might very probably be stolen goods. The defense, however, contended strongly that those features which distinguished these articles from all others would not be of the sort to meet

Total Blackout Brings Surprises

Orders Issued To Evacuate Are Countermanded

At 4:45 o'clock lat night, Carmelites were startled into action when the fire siren shrieked its four blast warning for five short minutes. It was the village's first taste of total blackout.

The blackout, which capped the entire peninsula, was very successful. In Carmel, it was particularly so. Although in some cases the police were forced to use their sirens and red lights, the streets were cleared of traffic almost immediately. All inhabitants were ordered to take cover for the duration of the blackout, and block wardens told all residents to remain at home with their families.

Under cover of darkness from somewhere came the orders that Carmel was to be evacuated. Certain precinct captains ordered members of their precincts to leave immediately for Monterey, and as a more unfortunate action in some areas, small boys ran down the streets shouting the word to clear out. At least 15 or 20 people were known to have left Carmel.

In the outlying districts, the Mission Ranch Club was one of the first to be evacuated. Several of the inhabitants were sent up Carmel Valley. While driving up the Valley road without lights, they were amazed to meet other cars with lights blazing, and within a short time everyone was sent home.

During all this, rumors flew thick and fast. There was one which said that only a thousand foot strip along the waterfront was to be evacuated. Another said that there were five Japanese battleships just off Santa Cruz, while still another claimed there was a major sea engagement going on 150 miles from San Francisco. Most fantastic were the claims of actual invasion, and bombers directly overhead.

Those who remained at home, were, for the most part greatly puzzled, when they discovered that there wasn't a California station (including KDON) that went off the air. Even the "touchy" Los Angeles stations were strong and clear.

In Santa Cruz, where wholesale evacuation was taking place, hundreds of men, women and children living in waterfront homes were sent, by the army, inland to the shelter of friends, churches, and schools. The all-out period, which started at 6:45 p. m., ended at 7:55 p. m. and everyone returned to their homes. The army described the situation as a "precautionary measure in case of an eventuality."

In Carmel, the "all clear" came at 8:45 p. m. and everything returned to normal.

Christmas Play to be Given by Both Schools

"On Christmas Eve", the traditional annual Christmas pageant, will be presented by High School and Sunset students in the Sunset School Auditorium, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18, at 2:30.

"On Christmas Eve" opens with the High School A Cappella Choir singing the opening number. The Sunset chorus then creates the background by singing the story of the birth of Christ as it unfolds before us in four scenes: Mary and Joseph arriving at the inn; the shepherds watching their flocks, the three kings seeking "A

If You Want to Help, Tell Precinct Captain

There are numerous things the average citizen can do if he wishes to help in the present emergency.

Civilian Defense would like some volunter typists.

If you cannot type but want to help, report to your precinct captain.

If you do not know who he is, see the list in the article on this page entitled, "ASK QUESTIONS OF YOUR BLOCK WARDENS."

Urgent Need of Red Cross Workers

Carmel's Red Cross is in serious need of volunteer workers to:

(a) Furnish personnal for First Aid Stations. Persons who have qualified in the Advanced Course are preferred. Persons otherwise qualified and suitable will be given instruction for qualification for First Aid work.

(b) To furnish reserve for nurse

One for All and All for One Now

By CARLOS DRAKE

During this initial period of war-time preparation it is natural that there should be some confusion. What occurred last night, when several coast cities, including Carmel, were ordered to evacuate, is an example. These orders were issued here suddenly in the total blackout and were as suddenly countermanded. Many people were frankly skeptical, while others became hysterical.

It is hoped that incidents of this nature will not be repeated, yet we must appreciate that until all organizations for our defense become adjusted to war conditions, mistakes will occur; there will be numerous surprises and alarms.

Our Civilian Defense Corps, which has really done a remarkable job in a very short and hectic period, has been chiefly handicapped by conflicting orders — a condition which will undoubtedly be smoothed out. What we all should realize is that the Civilian Defense must take all orders given by those in proper authority, and it is our duty to cooperate in the execution of those orders cheerfully and promptly.

It is vitally important that, because of circumstances which may seem bewildering, we do not cry "Wolf! Wolf!" A real emergency must not catch us napping.

I sincerely hope that all Carmel citizens heard over the radio or read in the newspapers what Lieut. General John L. De Witt, ranking officer of the Pacific coast told the leaders of San Francisco in Mayor Rossi's office on Tuesday. His remarks can be applied here as well. They were a straight-from-the-shoulder warning to all of us in California that we've got to realize that we're at war, that we're facing a grave danger, and that the safety of each of us depends on the cooperation of everyone.

The General found the blackout in San Francisco on Monday night, when enemy planes were reported flying over that community, extremely unsatisfactory. Those planes were also reported to be flying in the direction of Monterey, and our blackout that same night was pretty bad.

"It was not a hoax," declared the General. "It is foolish, it is insane for anybody, I care not whom I refer to, to assume that officials like myself and Admiral Greenslade, with our responsibilities in

"Navy Blue and Gold", Carmel Theater, tonight and Saturday.

"H. M. S. Pinafore", First Theater, Monterey, Dec. 18, 19, 20, 21, at 8 p. m.

John Burr Concet, Carmel Playhouse, Tuesday, Dec. 16.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE INSTRUCTIONS

No blackout will be enforced unless there are four blasts on the fire siren repeated for five minutes.

1. Restricted lighting will be enforced from tonight on (your Block Warden will explain this provision to you).

2. No signs lighted in streets, no lights unprotected in business houses that show in the street.

3. Business houses may have lights provided they can be put out one minute after the blackout alarm.

4. Streets in Monterey and Pacific Grove will be lighted until the signal blows. They will be out in Carmel and East Monterey. This is due to the fact that the mechanism in the latter two cities is such that the lights cannot be put out in a hurry, but this will be corrected in the near future.

5. Pending further instructions, autos will run with the usual lights until the alarm sounds when they will immediately blackout and pull over to the curb and stay there.

6. Public cooperation has been excellent and while we regret the inconvenience, it has given valuable information and training to the cities and the Civilian Defense organization.

BY ORDER OF E. A. H. WATSON, CHIEF WARDEN, CARMEL AREA.

Ask Questions of Your Precinct Block Wardens

On behalf of the hundreds of volunteers in Civilian Defense I want to express amazement and tremendous appreciation of the cooperation given by residents of the Carmel Area in the partial blackout of Tuesday night. Instructions and information were received so late that only a modest percentage of success was expected, but the cooperation of the residents made the partial black-out so extensive that Col. Mack congratulated me on the results.

These results, however, were due mainly to the splendid work of Air Raid Wardens and other precinct Wardens who did their utmost under very trying conditions. In addition, the Area staff closely followed up the hundreds of reports telephoned in to Area headquarters.

As our organization is perfected, information and instructions will be quickly relayed to householders through hteir Block Wardens. For anything you wish to know, consult your Block Warden. If you do not know who he is, call your Senior Air Raid Warden. These men, with their headquarters' telephones are as follows:

Precinct 1, Carl Daniels, 918; Precinct 2, Malcolm Tarpey, 1800; Precinct 3, Floyd Adams, 481; Precinct 4, Jack Belvail, 1040; Precinct 5, Ivan Kelsey, 1030; Carmel Woods, Arne Halle, 1300; Hatton Fields, Paul Low, 1553; Point and Mission Tract, W. M. Llewelling, 1668; Carmel Highlands, Sidney Fish, 980 MX; Carmel Valley, Bernard Schulte, 16-J-1; Pebble Beach, Ashton Stanley, 130; Country Club, C. C. Stewart, Monterey 5171.

Only when circumstances are exceptional call Carmel Area headquarters, 1924-W. Leave the police telephones for police calls.

E. A. H. Watson,
Chief Warden, Carmel Area.

Needless Telephone Calls at Night Urged Stopped

The Telephone Company urgently requests the public to refrain from making any unnecessary telephone calls during blackouts, air raid warnings and similar emergencies, in order to keep the circuits clear for vital calls.

"Prompt and efficient communication is absolutely vital to military and civilian defense activities", said Mr. Sexton, manager of the company, "and one result of Monday night's blackout was a sudden upsurge of telephone calls from resident users, which interfered with the prompt completion of important messages.

"We are doing everything possible to handle all calls promptly, but if everybody wants to call at once, as was the case Monday night in blackout areas, delays are bound to happen."

"The public can help in these sudden emergencies if everyone will avoid making unnecessary calls and keep their conversations brief."

WAR COMES TO CARMEL

News and Views of Our Military Forces

STATE GUARD EQUIPPED

Area commanders of the California State Guard in northern and southern California today reported that men on active duty are finally adequately uniformed and comfortably warm for the first time since the night fo Dec. 7 when they went on guard and patrol duty at important national defense plants, bridges and highway arterials following the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor.

According to the report made public by the Adjutant General's office, the men went into service uniformed in khaki shirts and pants which have been replaced by complete woolen uniforms and overcoats provided by the war department. Equipping was effected by Ninth Corps Area as rapidly as supplies permitted. The guard was forced to call upon the federal government, there being no provision made and no funds available for uniforming of guardsmen who had purchased their own khaki uniforms at the time of enlistment.

At the present time all California State Guard members on active duty are fully uniformed, although there is still the need for adequate uniforming of replacements, the report adds.

Despite inadequate uniforming at the time of the outbreak of war and the prevailing, unprecedented cold weather, percentage of men on the sick list and listed as victims of exposure is negiigible, area reports conclude.

Civilian Motor Plan Organized for West

SAN FRANCISCO.—Developed by John L. Rogers, chairman of the Central Motor Transportation Committee, Office for Emergency Management, the Civilian Motor Transportation Plan today was being placed in operation in States of the Western Defense Command.

The plan calls for the setting up of dispatching offices which the Army may call upon to furnish all non-military transportation facilities which may be required. The offices are organized to direct the normal flow of military supplies and equipment, to meet emergency demands to move large consignments of supplies or equipment and to insure, as far as possible, the normal flow of commercial motor freight.

Offices in Six Cities

Rogers has been named coordinator of the plan for the Western Defense Command by Lieut. General J. L. DeWitt, commanding general.

Dispatching offices are to be established in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland, Salt Lake City and Phoenix. Other offices will be established as the need develops.

DO NOT TURN OFF GAS PILOT LIGHT IN RAID

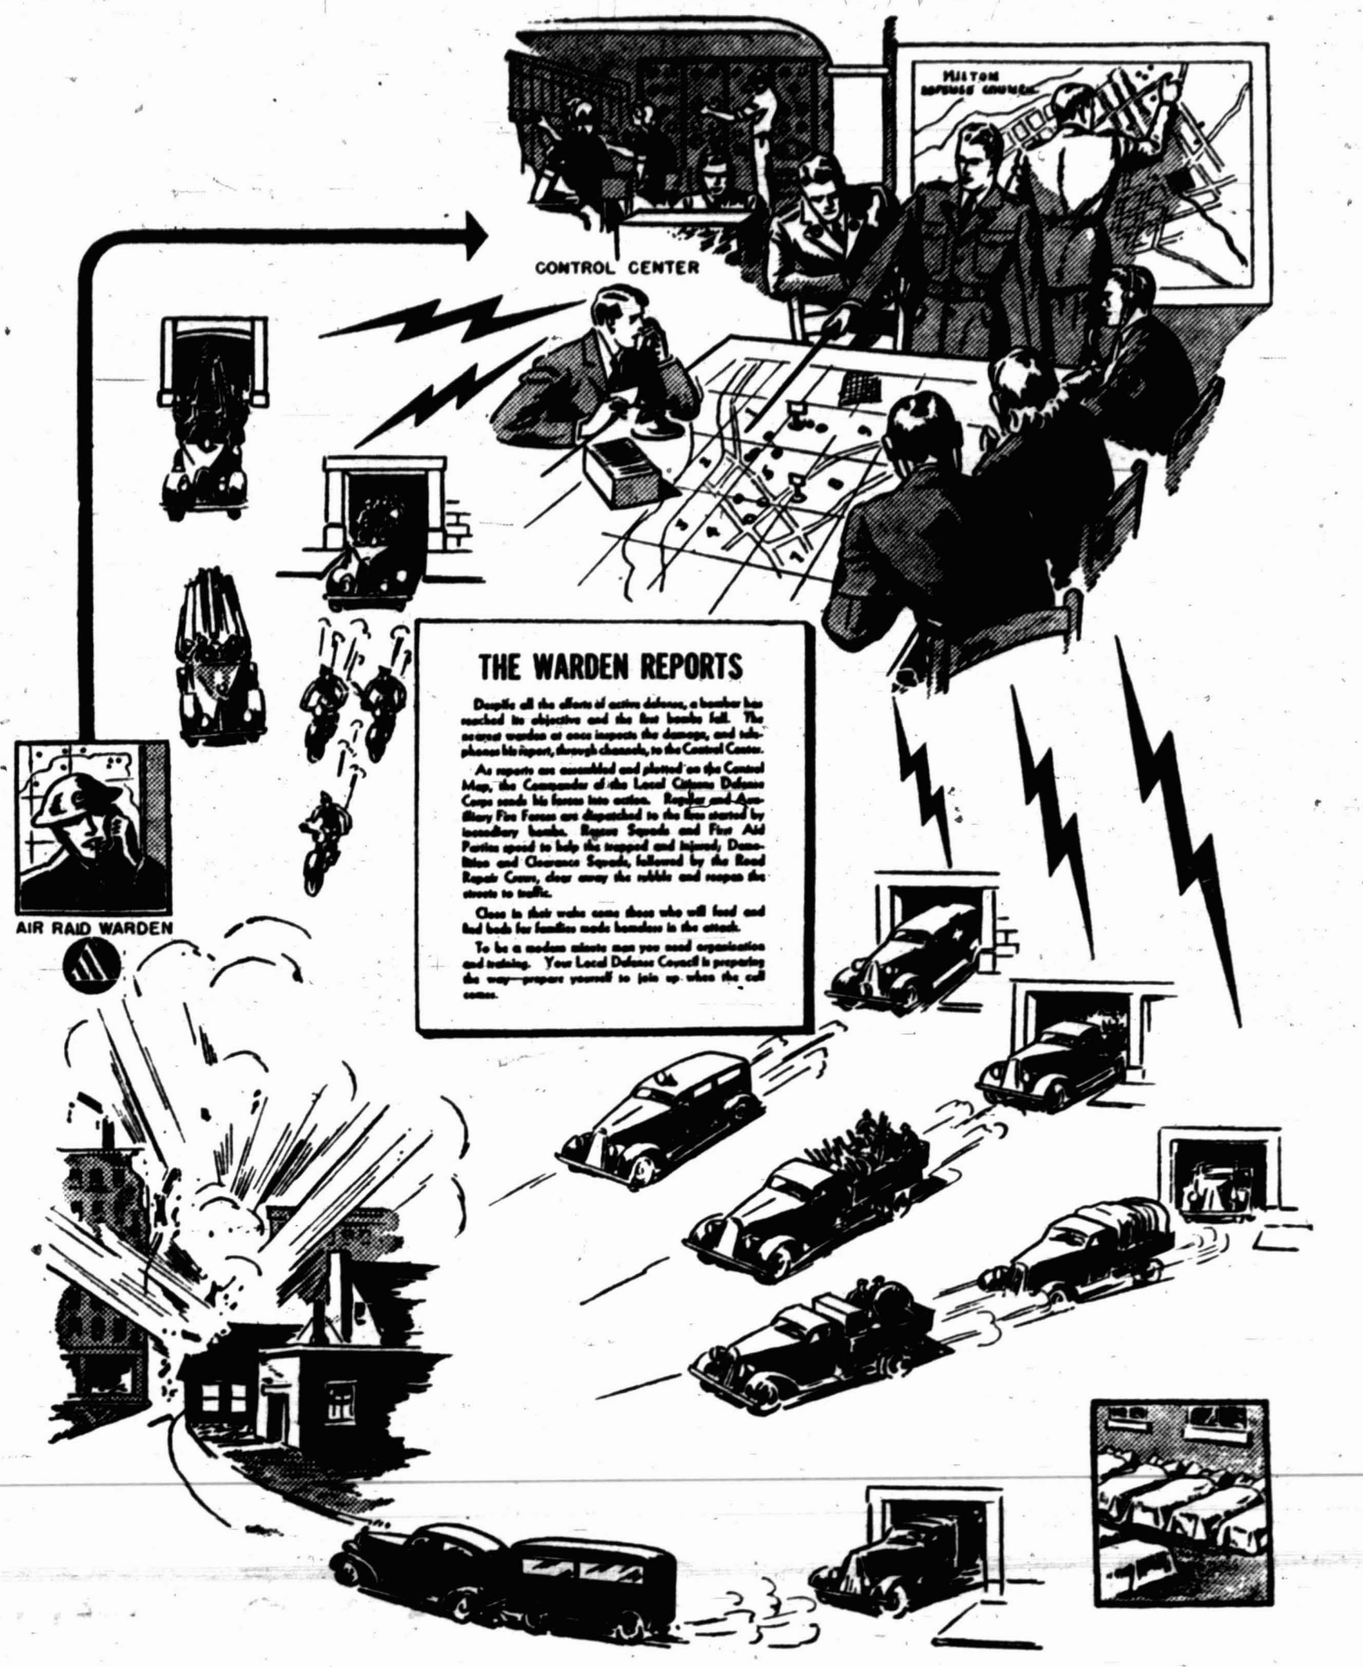
SAN FRANCISCO .— Revised instructions for householders concerning gas appliances — stoves, ranges, furnaces, water heaters, etc.—in case of air-raid alarms were announced today by Jack H. Helms, acting regional director of the Office of Civilian Defense in the Ninth Area.

"Make no attempt to shut off the main gas valve. Simply turn off the stove burners that are lit, not the pilot light.

"If the house is badly damaged, the main gas valve should be shut off.

"Once the main valve is turned off, for any reason, do not turn it on again yourself. Call for a trained man.

"Your local gas company is working out further detailed directions with your local defense council. Watch for these instructions, then follow them."



CONTROL CENTER
MILTON DEFENSE COUNCIL
THE WARDEN REPORTS
Despite all the efforts of active defense, a bomber has reached its objective and the first bombs fall. The air raid warden at once inspects the damage, and telephones his report, through channels, to the Control Center.
As reports are assembled and plotted on the Control Map, the Commander of the Local Citizens Defense Corps sends his forces into action. Repair and Auxiliary Fire Forces are dispatched to the fires started by incendiary bombs. Rescue Squads and First Aid Parties speed to help the trapped and injured; Demolition and Clearance Squads, followed by the Road Repair Crews, clear away the rubble and reopen the streets to traffic.
Close to their tasks come those who will feed and find beds for families made homeless in the attack.
To be a modern minute man you need organization and training. Your Local Defense Council is preparing the way—prepare yourself to join up when the call comes.

Japanese Authority Discovered Here Warns of Bright Yellow Peril

By ELIZABETH PAINE

At least one person in the United States has been expecting the Japanese war for 40 years. He is Dr. H. E. Odell, U. S. Navy retired, of the Point.

"The fate of Japan lies in the hands of a very few men," says Dr. Odell. "The ordinary Japanese is quite different from the average American and does unquestioningly what he's told. If those men in control of Japan had traveled a bit more, I believe this war would have been averted."

The doctor, who was stationed in Japan and other parts of the Orient for many years, considers the Japanese to be very bright, aggressive people who are accustomed to working hard. They are excellent soldiers as they began showing in the Boxer rebellion and the war with Russia.

We Win—With Burnt Fingers

"We may scorch our fingers at first," Dr. Odell said, "but there can be only one conclusion to the present war.

"We're just a little bit lazy over here. We may suspect our houseboy is a Japanese spy but we still want him to get our breakfast."

The reason so many Americans have been surprised at Japanese strength is that we don't know very much about international affairs, because, says the doctor, "We have been too busy going to hotspots.

"When Dewey took Manila, only a handful of people in this country could say within 5000 miles where it was to be found on the map.

Anybody who knew anything about Japan knew it was strong years before this war began.

When—He Won't Tell

"But if we exert ourselves as we will have to, there can be only a successful end for us to this affair. The American Navy isn't doing badly, you notice, now it has got started. However, when the war will end, I'm not telling."

Dr. Odell was commander for two years of the United States Naval Hospital at Yokohama, which was maintained until 1923 for our merchant seamen. He says that in Noguchi—who died a dozen years ago in Africa while doing research on yellow fever — the Japanese had one of the worlds finest bacteriologists. It was a Japanese, points out the doctor, who discovered the cause of tetanus.

Speaking of the avidity with which the Japanese have imitated the inventions and cultures of both western and eastern worlds, Dr. Odell said that probably the Japanese themselves came from China.

But this Navy man's chief interest in the Far East fray at the moment is in General Douglas MacArthur's battlefield on the island of Luzon. Dr. Odell knows it practically inch by inch since he had to "go after a cholera epidemic there in 1902" and in 1914 went deer hunting over the very rocks and jungles MacArthur is now contesting.

"The terrain is extremely rough. Trees are six and eight feet through. The mountains are very rocky. When I was last there, the interior was absolutely wild. There were no roads in that region and but two trails from Subic bay to Manila bay. Only one or two villages existed in this district which was declared a naval reserve by Theodore Roosevelt."

New Commander for Artillery Regiment from Carmel

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo. —Col. Norman J. McMahon of Carmel, Calif., assumed command of the 182nd Field Artillery regiment recently, relieving Col. Geo. VN Lothrop, Detroit.

Col. McMahon interrupted his studies at Columbia University in 1917 to become a second lieutenant of infantry. He served overseas with the Sixth Field Artillery, and transferred to the field artillery with a permanent appointment as captain in 1920. A graduate of the basic and advanced field artillery course and the Cavalry School, he was an instructor at the Fort Sill Field Artillery School between 1925-1929 and 1933-1934.

In 1934 Col. McMahon became captain of the artillery section of the Olympic Equestrian team, which gave exhibitions throughout United States and Mexico.

The Whole Town's Talking

MAYOR KEITH EVANS

Maybe there's hope for the country yet — judging from the way High school students turned out Saturday and worked all day long in the rain on Carmel's salvage drive.

MRS. CEDRIC ROWNTREE

If some of the grown-ups who have been lagging behind in Civilian Defense work would show the same spirit that the boys and girls did who helped with Carmel's salvage drive, the country would have practically nothing to worry about.

Over a Carload of Old Paper Collected

Over 20 tons of paper — more than a train carload — were collected in Carmel's Civilian Defense salvage drive Saturday.

It was successful, thanks to the high school boys of the Junior Red Cross Disaster Relief Committee who worked all day through the rain, to the Girl Scouts who have continued to tie and stack papers all week, to Cilvilian Defense volunteer workers, and Alan Campbell, energetic salvage drive chairman, and to those who donated trucks, Plaza Fuel, M. J. Murphy, Hugh Comstock, Carmel Garbage Company, Del Monte Properties Company, Bill Booker and the City of Carmel. A mobile loud speaker system announcing the trucks' approach was contributed by Severns.

The paper was shipped off to government defense industries today.

Civilian Defense headquarters ask that citizens continue to save their old newspapers, magazines and cartons. They will be collected and taken to the Plaza Fuel storehouse every two weeks.

Housewives are urged to tie their papers together themselves. Failure of many to do so last Saturday greatly slowed up the collection.

If you are not sure your registration is up to date, check with County Clerk C. F. Joy at Salinas.

Here It Is Again: the Firemen's Wild and Woozy Variety Show on Tonight

Those who have never had the experience of hearing and seeing Dick Boone, Susie Duvall at the piano, Katie Vosburg surrounded by an accordian, the Mexican Hat Dance as interpreted by Carolita — well, they'd better take a hint and be on hand when the curtain rises tonight on the Fireman's Annual "Variety Show". Those who have seen the above-mentioned talent, plus a lot of other stars, will come anyway. You can't keep 'em away. The full program itself, a knockout if we ever saw one, is printed on pages six and seven of this issue. Take a look at the arrayed laughter which awaits. (If the program is a bit surrounded by advertising, remember that when your glance strays from the galaxy of names and numbers, the advertisers deserve a break, too!)

Only thing that may spoil the show is the intermission, which somehow seems unnecessary. Probably it's a safety precaution

Tourists Return Minus Wheels, Peace Reigns

A near miracle occurred in Carmel this week.

A part of Carmel is cheering today and another part is sulking in its tent with a resigned, "Oh well, nothing good ever lasts." Part of Carmel thought tourists had left us for keeps. Tourists returned, however, in large numbers last week-end, and the other side cheered.

The funny part of it is that these two vocally dynamic Carmel groups, the Pro and Anti-Tourists, were both practically reconciled with the existing state of affairs, something that hasn't happened since the board walks on Ocean avenue wore out.

Corum Jackson and the hotel owners were gleeful. Hotels and lodges were crowded to overflowing. Gift and dress shops did a rushing business. Scores of vacationers came down from San Francisco and the valley to open their summer homes here for the week-end or for the week.

In January, when the tourist situation vanished completely from sight and so formed the Tourist Problem, a certain part of the town was quietly but definitely gleeful. People who have lived in Carmel for 20 years were saying it was like the old, unspoiled days. They did not gloat but they didn't hide their satisfaction either that Carmel was quiet again and that there were parking places on Carmel streets.

Well, these people are still mildly happy today in spite of the tourists' return. They rejoiced over two things: that there were not quite so many tourists last week-end as over Washington's Birthday a year ago and especially that more people came to Carmel by train, leaving their cars at home. Carmel, as several Carmelites are pointing out, can gracefully absorb a lot more tourists without automobiles than they can with them.

Pop Concert Here, First of Its Kind

The Carmel Music Society will inaugurate something entirely new on March 14 in its series of concerts.

This is the presentation of a young American artist in a concert at popular prices.

Ross Worsley, Los Angeles baritone, has been selected to initiate the new feature designed to develop promising young artists. Mr. Worsley will be remembered in Carmel for his solo work in last year's Bach Festival. On Saturday evening, March 14, he will be heard in Sunset auditorium.

Our Own--First Real Symphony to Play Here

The Monterey County Symphony Orchestra will make its bow to Carmel on Thursday evening, March 19, at Sunset School auditorium.

This will be the first time an orchestra of anything approaching regular symphonic proportions will have appeared in this locality, and an interesting evening of symphonic music may be expected. There will be 50 players, and all the instruments of the orchestra are represented.

This orchestra consists of players from all over Monterey county, some of whom have traveled 60 miles round-trip to attend rehearsals each week. Thanks to the cooperation of county high schools and their musical instructors, rehearsal space and the use of music

Marquis of Waterford leads English polo team against Pebble Beach on March. 8

Top goal international polo returns to Pebble Beach on Sunday, Mar. 8, when the English team led by the Marquis of Waterford and Lord Edmund Fermoy opposes a west coast squad captained by the Santa Barbara Polo Club's Bob Skene.

Riding with the Marquis will be his brother, Lord Patrick Beresford. Nigel Corbally-Stourton is the fourth member of the combined British-Irish team. Waterford and Beresford were long-time mainstays of Prince Philip's Windsor Castle team.

With Skene, who was a member of the last British team to play here in 1939, at the old Hotel Del Monte, will be Peter Vought, Aspen, Colorado, John Wallop, Big Horn, Wyoming, and the east Bay's Vic Graber. All now play for the Santa Barbara Club.

The match, according to Pebble Beach Equestrian director Richard Collins will bring together two teams of equal ability — about 15 goals each, with Skene top rated at 10 goals.

Prior to arriving at Pebble Beach the British Team will play in Hawaii.

Librarian's Notebook

The Heart of Buddhist Meditation is by Nyanaponika Thera, who is actually the student who translated the text from the Sanskrit and the Pali. The book begins with an article on Buddhist meditation and goes on to cite experts from the text and their interpretation.

If anyone asked you what was the significance of the term "basic bounces," or "rotational progressions," or even "twisting somersaults and filffes," just what would you answer? As for me, I wouldn't answer at all. You remember Ogden Nash wrote a short one,

When called a panther,
Don't anther.

The terms listed above are those of trampolining, and we now have a book on the subject by Dennis Horne. The title is Trampolining, so it should be easy to find in the card catalog. Those of us in the know can tell you that a fliffis is a double somersault with a twist in mid air.

Under the series heading Turning Points in History, we have a book by George Deaux, which is entitled The Black Death, 1347. According to an encyclopedia, the disease was probably bubonic plague, and was spread by fleas of the Norway brown rat and the English black rat.

The fact remains that over a thousand towns were wiped out completely and at least a third of the population of Europe died during the years 1347-50. The loss of such a large segment of the population had enormous repercussions in the history of the area. These resulting historical changes are what the book discusses.

The Lady and the Sharks is by Eugenie Clark who was for 10 years director of a marine laboratory in Florida. This book is concerned with her work with sharks during the years she spent at the Mote Marine Laboratory in Sarasota.

Many of you read her earlier book Lady With A Spear.

With her four children she now lives near Washington, D.C. The thing which makes this last book so interesting is her account of the diving she did with her fellow scientists. In the course of this deep diving they discovered bones and wood particles many thousands of years old. This is a fascinating book. Someone who has time to read the whole thing, tell me why this charming person named her children Tak, Aya, Niki, and Hera. There really ought to be a law!

An interesting small book is The Home Office Guide by Leon Henry. Actually, many people operate offices in their homes, and this book tells all the handy gimmicks which will make such an activity easier, even to the point of listing a few recipes for times when wives are attending bargain sales and fail to return by noon.

* * *

Last book on our list this week is How Do I Love Thee a book composed of the love letters of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning. These are beautiful letters which might awaken a renewed interest in the poems of the two writers.

Green named SCRAMP PR

Laguna Seca Raceway today announced the appointment of George Green as public relations manager. Don Wester, president of the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP), which operates Laguna Seca on a non-profit basis for the exclusive benefit of recognized charities, explained that the increasing complexity of operating successfully a modern racing facility has made it imperative for Bob Hugill Scramp's business manager, to have full-time professional assistance.

Laguna Seca will be host this year to three top Sports Car Club of America professional road racing fixtures; The Trans-American Sedan Championship on April 18-19 with a $25,000 guaranteed purse; the Continental Grand Prix on June 13-14 with $20,000 at stake; and finally the rich Monterey-Castrol Canadian American Challenge Cup with the price raised all the way to $75,000.

Middle School to have 'closed campus'

At last week's meeting of the Carmel Unified School District Board of Education, Superintendent, Harris Taylor reported to the board that during the past several weeks there had been an increasing number of Middle School students leaving the grounds at noon tgo to the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center and elsewhere.

Since there was no official Board ruling declaring that Middle School have a closed campus. He reported that some students had been brining notes to school saying in effect, "My child can go anywhere he pleases." He said that although the practice of leaving the campus was not yet widespread and the problem was not a serious one yet, greater difficulties would soon develop if the campus were not closed.

A closed campus by definition is one in which students cannot leave from the time they arrive at school until dismissal unless the student walks home for lunch or has to leave the campus for such purposes as medical and dental appointments, etc.

Student representative Jim Heisinger said that many Middle School students find it difficult to adjust to the freedom they find as high school freshmen. He felt that eighth grade students at Middle School should be given more off campus privileges.

On the basis of Dr. Taylor's recommendation, the board voted a closed campus for Middle School.

In other business, Board member, Richard Wilsdon reported that he had been contacted by the Carmel Council and asked to join with City Councilmen in resigning to protest Assembly Bill 325. This bill would require that public officials be required to report their financial holdings.

Wilsdon pointed out that the bill had two problems that would delay its passage for at least a year. There is speculation about who is included in the bill and there is the problem of what amount must be declared.

Dr. Harris Taylor moved that district schools be granted their request to collect money for Nigeria. He reported that several classes and groups in the district requested permission to solicit funds and that because there was no district – wide program under development and the schools did not plan to hold contests or competitions to raise the money, he was in favor of granting the permission. The board approved Dr. Taylor's request.

Construction starts on Del Mesa Carmel second unit

Del Mesa Carmel's Unit No. 2 got under way this week following ground-breaking ceremonies on the site. The construction project is valued at $7½ million and will complete the final phase of the community's master plan.

Willard Branson, Monterey County Supervisor from Carmel Valley, turned the first shovel of earth at the ceremonies.

"It is a distinct pleasure to attend the opening of the second phase of this beautiful housing facility. While bringing important work to many of our tradesmen and also adding to the County tax base, it does so with the least possible damage to our environment. We are delighted with the quality and aesthetics and will expect no less from future developments of any kind in Carmel Valley," Branson said.

Donald McLean, president of Del Mesa Carmel, pointed out that the new unit, will consist of 139 new one-bedroom and two-bedroom homes, many with an added room as a den or library. These, combined with the present 150 homes at Del Mesa Carmel, will bring the total to 289. These homes will utilize the entire mesa, and no more will be built after their completion.

Rialto Bridge in Venice

Explorama visits Venice & Italian Lakes on March 6

The charm of Venice is perhaps one of the most unique and everlasting stories in history. The city has thrilled historians, poets, artists and travellers for a thousand years. It is a treasure of art and architecture that is unique in the world.

Thayer Soule spent six months on location in Venice during the production of this 2-hour film which not only highlights the historical and scenic wonders of the city, but is a film that deals primarily with the lives of the present day Venetians. The film traces the history of Venice from Island refuge to world power. It reveals its' beauty and investigates its problems of today and plans for tomorrow.

The film begins with a musical introduction showing the various sights of Venice and creating an atmosphere for the film. It continues with the history of the city. THen we see the travelers' Venice, the Piazza San Marco and its Basilica, the enjoyable sidewalk cafes, inside the Doge's Palace, the Bridge of Sighs, the many art masterpieces and a gondola ride on the Grand Canal to the Rialto Bridge.

The second half of the film concentrates on the lake regions of Italy which are only hours away from Venice. This part of the film features the City of Milan and the Italian Lakes Garda, Como, Lugano and Maggiore. Also, thyimpressive Dolomites and the Italian Alps.

The film is part of the Explorama Series and is accompanied by stereophonic musical background and sound effects which were recorded on the spot in Italy. Reserved seat tickets are available in advance from all Macy's stores and Ticketron outlets, and at Abinante Music Store in Monterey.

Planning Commission mulls basement stores

Concern about a new and potentially disturbing development in the business district of the city, was expressed by members of the Carmel Planning Commission at their meeting last week.

While this concern revolved principally about the question of the added parking problem which the establishment of separate businesses in basement areas would cause, there has been concern expressed generally in the community about whether or not the use of basements as a kind of subterranean third-story should be permitted at all.

At last week's meeting, planning commissioners were divided evenly on the question.

After a discussion as to the amount of off-street parking space which should be demanded before the location of a new business in a basement could be approved action on the whole businesses-in-basements basements question was postponed for further study.

Meanwhile, the Commission's attention has been called to a proposed additional 52-unit motel in the Carmel Rancho area. Since the Rancho section is outside Carmel city limits, the Commission has been asked by the Monterey County Planning Commission simply for an advisory opinion concerning the proposed new motel and it may have had to render such an opinion by the time today's issue of the PINE CONE reaches its readers. (Through the years, the city planning commission has often objected to the very limited interval of time given it by the County commission for its advisory reaction to proposed new business developments at the Rancho center.)

A request by the Bach Festival organization to hang long banners from lamp posts in the Sunset Center area just before and during the Bach Festival in July won a conditioned approval from the Commission. Before passing the request up to the City Council, it suggested that such banners be placed only inside the boundaries of the Sunset Center itself, rather than along the public sidewalk.

A request by Doris Brand, owner of the Carmel Dress Shop on Ocean Avenue, to remodel and lower her display windows, was approved, as was also a request by Henri Corbat for exterior lighting at his remodeled jewelry store on San Carlos near 5th.

Announcement was made of the all-day Asilomar Conference of the Monterey County Planning Council, to be held Mar. 7 and of the agendy for that conference. Keynote address at the session will be presented by Jasper Hawkins who has titled his talk "Factory Built Housing — An Industry's Challenge." The theme of the Conference is "Planning Challenges on Our 200th Birthday."

Secretary of the County Planning Council is E. W. DeMars, Monterey County Planning Director.

Report From RLS

by Tim Donahoe

Director of Athletics Wallace B. Goodwin of the Robert Louis Stevenson School has an optimistic outlook for the coming months in sports. A look at the program for the spring semester seems to justivy this attitude.

The Pirate track team enjoys the largest turnout of athletes approximately 50 – who will be competing for positions on both the varsity and junior varsity squads. Included in the 15 – meet schedule are 13 home encounters on the school's new Grastex track.

In addition, the faciliyt will be used by schools from all over the central California area when R.L.S. host the First Annual Stevenson Relays in April.

Golf, the second of Stevenson's three championship teams, will be looking forward to another undefeated season. Faced with a 19-match schedule which includes four junior colleges, the team can anticipate playing a lot of golf in the coming months. With competitive teams on three levels, (varsity, junior varsity, and junior high), the record number of boys out for the sport will find the competition for a spot on the team extremely intense.

The swimming schedule is once again a rigorous one. The squad can look ahead to hosting the Sixth Annual Far Western Swim Meet, which involves schools from all over California, in addition to their 13 scheduled meets.

As with the track and golf teams, the swimming team will be entering the season in defense of a championship.

The spring program also includes baseball, a sport which is becoming stronger every year, tennis, riding, polo, scuba diving, and bowling (at Monterey Lanes). In addition, for those individuals who wish to perfect certain areas of the game, professional instruction is offered in both golf and tennis.

Enos Fouratt's Specials

WHY NOT ACQUIRE YOUR RETIREMENT HOME NOW; lease it until you are ready for it and avoid the property appreciation you'll be paying for if you continue to procrastinate.

We have three homes, one of which should fit your requirements and your means:

1. Two-bedroom, one-bath, split-level contemporary up on Santa Rita. Loan can be assumed and the boost in interest rate can be absorbed by extending the amortization schedule. An excellent value at $27,500. Ask to see MLS 3430. Has built-in tenant.
2. Three bedrooms, two baths and a very fine tenant who would like a long lease. You can assume the 4½% loan and the owner will carry the balance as a 2nd TD with a reasonable down payment. You cannot match this one for $30,500 in Mission Fields. Exclusive – cooperation invited.
3. Two bedrooms, two baths, den or third bedroom, cul-de-sac location, POINT LOBOS VIEW – up on Martin Road in Hatton Fields – and owner will carry up to $40,000 at 7½% per annum with the balance due and payable in five years. That comes to $295.60 per month. Priced at just a little more than twice the lot value at $55,000.

A CLOSE-IN OVERSIZED LOT was chosen by a native Carmelite for his home 20 years ago when there were many choices. He also chose adobe walls, open-beam living room and hardwood floors. Then he decided on 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and a convenient kitchen. He added a room off the garage for studio or hobby space, planted the yard with native plants and used a redwood fence to set it all off. He's moving now and it can be yours for $42,500. Want to see if you'd like it?

Romantic Stone House in Pebble Beach

Just a couple of blocks from the Lodge in Pebble Beach yet beautifully secluded from neighbors and the roads, a grand old home has been lovingly and completely renovated and restored to its rightful place among Pebble Beach showcase properties.

THE 31-FOOT ENTRANCE GALLERY leads into the living room with its polished Phillippine mahogany wainscoating, beam ceiling, tile and wood-faced fireplace flanked by deep, shuttered and velvet-cushioned window seats overlooking the garden terrace. To the right of the living room. A DRAWING ROOM where attention focuses almost simultaneously on the massive porvincial fireplace with its unusual slap, strap and iron mantle, and the also unusual 36-paned window reaching to the high cathedral ceiling supported by hand-adzed beams. To the left of the living room, step up to a large and beautiful proportioned dining room with windows to the garden and old oaks.

THE SUPERB NEW KITCHEN (the owners are gourmets with European background) was planned by the architect to provide a rustic country feeling with the most modern possible appliances and equipment. A truly fabulous spice door conceals a walk-in closet for china; there's a special pots and pans closet. Red tile floor, ceiling beamed and papered. Specially designed laundry closet. Off the kitchen, the original maid's room is now a handsome study, also reached through the gallery.

THE MASTER SUITE, also on the main floor, consists of paneled wardrobe room, all new, with splendid fitted closets, a dressing room and bath, and the lovely bedroom with its French doors to the garden. Thick carpeting, delightful wallpaper and coordinated bed furnishings and window coverings. (And an elegant fireplace!)

UPSTAIRS, there's another master bedroom with its own bath, dressing room, and deck, plus two more bedrooms with gaily papered ceilings and another bath – in all, 4 bedrooms and 4 baths.

This is the kind of home noted for grand construction details lost to our modern day – the stone and the stone-masonry, neither available now. The fine dark oak floors, the beautiful millwork throughout, and the interesting mullioned windows, 5 separate entrances give a sense of freedom and independence to all family members. A garage and workshop finished like the house itself would offer expansion possibilities.

THE PRICE IS $169,500. We'd love to show it to you.
